

HELD TO ANSWER NO BAIL ALLOWED

TESTIFIES MRS. SKELLY SAID THAT SKELLY THREATENED HER

Mrs. J. F. Patterson Says Accused Man
Replied to Wife: "I Didn't Know it Was Gasoline"—Preliminary
Completed at 2 o'clock

On the charge of murdering his wife, Frank F. Skelly of Westminster was today held for trial in the superior court, without bail. The order was made by Justice Smithwick after Skelly's attorneys had pleaded for a dismissal of the case and for bail.

Skelly was taken to the Santa Ana Hospital by Sheriff Lacy.

She Said He Threatened
The strongest evidence yet brought against Frank F. Skelly, whose preliminary examination on the charge of murder began yesterday, was given this morning by Mrs. J. F. Patterson of Westminster. She said that Mrs. Skelly looked up at Skelly and asked him why he did it. To the question, Skelly replied: "I didn't know it was gasoline," and immediately Mrs. Skelly said: "You threatened me, but I didn't think you would do it."

However, aside from the accusations made by Mrs. Skelly the investigation has produced but little that can be used in swaying a jury.

Yesterday afternoon a piece of evidence was given by J. F. Patterson that was seized upon with avidity by the defense. Patterson testified that he found the gasoline tank on the stove. That will go to the aid of the defense in its theory of accident while Mrs. Skelly was filling the gasoline stove.

The defense yesterday compelled District Attorney Davis to produce pieces of a glass jar found on the floor of the pantry two or three feet from the stove. That glass shows marks of burning. A rubber band and the glass itself show marks of fire. Both sides must admit that there was a jar of gasoline. One will go on the theory that the gasoline was thrown on Mrs. Skelly; the other that in close proximity to the flame of the stove, which would burn for minutes after a tank was removed, this jar caught afire and in her excitement Mrs. Skelly overturned it on herself, that not seeing how it was done, she might have thought Skelly threw gasoline on her, an idea given further credence when he tried to hold her to pour water on her.

It is a case that is open to the advancement of many theories. As yet no motive has been spoken of in any of the investigation. Evidence brought out along that line, is all to the effect that the Skelly family was at peace.

An Important Point
The defense yesterday asked one

GOOD ROADS SURVEY FOR ORANGE COUNTY BEGINS

Surveying has begun on the system of good roads that is proposed for Orange county.

This is the good news announced by the Highway commissioners of the county who held a two-hours session yesterday at the office of the president, M. M. Crookshank. Commissioners Crookshank, Egan and Burnham were all present at this meeting and the status of the highways proposition was thoroughly reviewed by these men, who are alive to this important interest of the county. Plans for the good roads system were under consideration by the commissioners as well as a discussion of those already being put into execution.

Actual work is progressing satisfactorily, a force of men being now at work, under Assistant Engineer S. H. Finley, on territory between here and Irvine Station, prosecuting a survey that will extend to the Los Angeles county line.

From now on it is likely the survey will be as vigorously prosecuted as possible. Deep interest in the progress of the project is felt by the people of the county.

Should Try New Tactics In War With Interests

NEW YORK, May 20.—Gifford Pinchot is quietly writing his book relating his experiences in the conservation fight that resulted in his dismissal as chief forester.

Pinchot will defend his action, saying the special interests are so entrenched as to know what to expect from their enemies, the enemies should shift their ground and adopt tactics for which the interests are not prepared.

BALLINGER CASE UP TO ARGUMENTS

Testimony in—Months May Pass Before Decision—
Likely to Acquit

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The introduction of testimony before the Ballinger investigation committee ended today, and arguments were called for by the committee.

"It is predicted the committee will vote 'Acquit,' by seven to five. Madison of Kansas will probably write the minority opinion.

Chairman Nelson read a letter from Secretary Ballinger stating that he was unable to find the two letters that Attorney Brandies, Glavis's counsel, declared passed between Ballinger and George W. Perkins, representative of the J. P. Morgan Company. Brandies called for Frank Spaulding, Glavis's ex-stenographer. He testified that he once stored a bundle of papers in the Seattle Federal building. The missing papers the defense alleged Glavis secreted might have been among them.

Defense Rests Its Case
WASHINGTON, May 20.—Attorney Vertrees, representing Ballinger, announced today to the Ballinger investigation committee that the defense would rest with the testimony already in.

The date set for hearing arguments and filing briefs would bring the end of the investigation on June 11th. The committee did not announce when the final decision might be expected. Several members are known to favor postponement of the verdict until the December session of congress.

BLUEFIELD, May 20.—The American consulate at Bluefield is cordoned with American marines and blue-jackets from the gunboat Paducah. The sailors have mounted machine guns, which command the main streets, anticipating the sacking of the city by the Madriz forces. The Nicaraguan army is reported as preparing to advance.

Nicaragua, May 20.—Scores of Americans are taking refuge at the consulate, fearing that Madriz's threat to burn and sack the city is the result of a premeditated attack on Americans. The American marines are not sufficient to protect them, but three more American gunboats are lying within wireless call. They carry enough men to control the situation and if necessary they will be landed.

The armies of Madriz and Estrada face each other three miles from the city. Their outposts clashed during the night. A decisive engagement is expected today. In a preliminary skirmish today fifty were killed on each side. The Estradas retreated.

The motion contained seventeen reasons. Judge Latschaw set the hearing on the motions two weeks from Saturday.

The basic principle of the entire argument for a new trial lies in the admission of testimony concerning deaths other than that of Colonel Swope.

King's Funeral Is Impressive Event

Procession Following Edward's
Body One of the World's Striking Spectacles

Many Crowned Heads in Great
Cortege to Resting Place
In Historic Windsor

LONDON, May 20.—The body of King Edward the Seventh was laid to rest today in St. George's Chapel, Windsor, where seven other British kings are buried. The funeral was one of the most impressive in the world's history.

The procession left Westminster Hall at 9:50 o'clock this morning. Three millions saw the pageant. Hundreds fainted in the dense throng. The street were jammed at dawn.

Every train, street car and factory in Great Britain stopped when the cortege started. Crowds in black-draped stands rose and uncovered, when the catafalque passed. Every phase of British officialdom was represented. A draped gun carriage, drawn by a hundred soldiers, bore the casket.

Preceded by the royal standards rode King George with an aide and an equerry. He was attended by the Duke of Connaught, the Emperor Wilhelm, and seven European monarchs, Kings George of Greece, Alfonso of Spain, Manuel of Portugal, Hakoon of Norway, Frederick of Denmark, Albert of Belgium, Ferdinand of Bulgaria.

The first carriage after the mounted monarchs contained the Queen Mother, Alexandria, her sister, the Dowager Czarina of Russia, the Princesses Laos and Victoria. In the next carriage were Queen Mary of England, Queen Maud of Norway, the Duke of Cornwall and his sister, the Princess Mary.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt wore an evening dress with black studs and mourning band. He rode in the first carriage, following the royal family, with Foreign Minister Pinchot of France and Said Khan of Persia.

Edward's favorite black charger, with elegant trappings and with the king's boots in the stirrups upside down, showing that the owner was dead, had a prominent place in the cortege. A white embroidered pall covered the casket, surmounted by the royal insignia. On a cushion rested the royal crown and scepter.

The funeral train arrived at Windsor at 12:34 o'clock this afternoon.

The Archbishops of Canterbury and York, received the King's body at Windsor Chapel. The Queen Mother and other royal ladies were seated in the Prince Consort's chapel as the bishops led the procession up the aisle. A psalm was read, followed by the singing of the litany beginning with, "That man is born of woman," set to Wellesley's music.

At the conclusion of the funeral services, the deputy king-at-arms advanced, proclaimed King Edward as dead, and prayed for long life to King George, ending with "God Save the King."

MEMORIAL SERVICES IN WASHINGTON—TAFT ATTENDS

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Memorial services for King Edward were held in St. John's church today. President Taft and his party attended the service and occupied a front pew. Mrs. Francis M. Foster, the "Frankie Fuller" in the scheme to entrap Belle Moore, was the chief witness. She is a graduate of Radcliffe college.

Greek Leaped to Death From Top Of Call Building

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—After hurling himself through the air from the dome of the Call building, twenty stories above the street, the body of Nicholas Lichaskis, a Greek, struck the pavement among a crowd of pedestrians today. A shouted warning by a by-stander, causing persons to look up, probably saved some one from being killed by the falling body.

After purchasing a plot in a local cemetery, and depositing money with an undertaking firm to cover his burial expenses, Lichaskis gained the top of the building by telling the janitor he was an electrician sent to repair the wires in the dome.

COMET'S TAIL STILL SHY OF THE EARTH

All Calculations Off as to When Meeting is to Occur
If Ever

TAIL WAS STILL VISIBLE THIS MORNING IN EAST

French Scientist Declares the Earth Will Yet Meet the Comet's Appendage

(By Prof. George Ellery Hale, director
Carnegie Observatory.)

MOUNT WILSON, May 20.—At 3:20 this morning the comet's tail extended on the eastern horizon to the Milky Way near the star Altair. Toward the east the tail passed centrally through a square of Pegasus, where it was fifteen degrees wide. This part of the tail has moved westward since yesterday.

The eastern edge of the tail is more clearly defined than the western. The tail is much fainter than yesterday. It is not likely it will be bright enough to be seen again in the morning skies. If clear tonight the comet should be easily seen in the western sky after sunset. Our observations do not show that the earth passed through any part of the tail. It may be said, however, that the portion of the tail in the east is less conspicuous than before, and is rapidly disappearing.

FRENCH SKY SCOUT SAYS EARTH YET TO MAKE TRIP

CARNEGIE OBSERVATORY, Mt. Lowe, May 20.—The earth will pass through the comet's tail, despite the doubts of many scientists, according to Prof. H. Chretien, the French astronomer, who came to America to make observations.

He declared, after observations today, that the comet's position is unchanged. The tail is more dense, but is less clearly defined. The fact that the tail was visible today proves that the earth is not now surrounded by the appendage. Chretien says it is impossible to estimate when the earth will pass through the tail.

CURVATURE OF THE TAIL PREVENTS CALCULATION

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., May 20.—The curvature of the comet's tail precludes the possibility when the earth will enter the gaseous mass, according to the scientists of the Lowell observatory. The following is a statement prepared for the United Press today:

The motion of the comet is in such a direction as to cause the fringe of the tail to be curved away from the earth, thus delaying the time of entering. Photographs of the comet since it became a morning object generally show that the tail is quite straight. In reality this may not be the case. During the interval since those observations the position of the earth with respect to the comet's orbit has been such that the character of the curvature here in question would not show itself to any marked degree.

Japan Sees Comet Today

TOKYO, May 20.—The comet was observed through two telescopes at the National observatory for forty minutes today. The tail is estimated to be 84,000,000 miles long. Professors are taking continuous photographs and observations.

Looks Bad—Laborers Are Suspected

Huntington Beach News: A fire which totally destroyed the store and stock of T. A. Wells, located near the cannery in the outskirts of this city, occurred at midnight Wednesday night. It was first seen by Erwin Thompson and the family of W. T. Newland, who live near-by, and a telephone message was at once sent to W. E. Wells, brother of the store-keeper, who lives in this city. The entire building, however, was soon a mass of flames, and with its contents was entirely consumed.

Mr. Wells valued the property at about a thousand dollars, on which he carried seven hundred dollars of insurance in the Fireman's Fund Company of San Francisco. The policy was written by the Talbert agency here.

Because of having attached their wages for indebtedness due him, Wells had been for the past few weeks on bad terms with several Mexicans living in his neighborhood, and they had threatened several times to burn the store. At the time of the fire the proprietor was absent, but strong suspicions of the Mexicans are entertained and a thorough investigation of the cause of the conflagration is being made.

$10,000 FOR STOCK SOLD

Promoter of Orange Gas Plant
Sale Has Judgment Entered
Against Him

Los Angeles Times. In Judge Conroy's court yesterday, M. L. Bellus secured a judgment for $10,000 against D. L. Peters, a promoter, on account of a deal involving the sale and transfer of the gas plant at Orange.

It seems that Bellus, Peters and John W. Kemp entered into a contract for the purpose of embarking in the gas business, plant, appliances, pipe lines, etc. In January, 1909, negotiations were entered into with H. L. Willits, the owner of the gas works at Orange, to see upon what terms the business could be purchased for Bellus, Peters and Kemp. Peters represented, it is alleged, that $28,500 was the lowest price, and a contract was made for the sale of the property at that figure.

Under the agreement $6000 was to be the initial payment, and of this amount Bellus furnished $5000, Peters $1000, while Kemp put up his legal services as an attorney, it is said, as an offset for the cash of the other partners in the business. It was afterward ascertained that the price of the gas works was but $27,500, instead of $1000 more, as alleged by Peters, also that the $1000 paid by Peters was returned to him by the owner of the business, so that really Peters had nothing but his work in the investment.

But in the meantime, 40,000 shares of the capital stock of the concern had been issued to Peters, 40,000 to Kemp, and 40,000 to Bellus, out of a total issue of 200,000 shares. Peters proceeded to sell his stock, and the amount of the judgment against him is what the stock issued to him is said to be worth.

OLD NEWPORT NEWS LETTER

Earnest Wakeham Lost Fine
Driving Horse by Death
Saturday Night

OLD NEWPORT, May 18.—Ernest Wakeham lost his nice driver last Saturday evening. He had driven over to call on Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Tedford, and when they came out again, they found that the horse was dead, with his neck broken. In some way the hitching rope had strangled him and in struggling, he had broken his neck.

Next Sunday evening the League devotional service will be led by Miss Anna Segerstrom. The topic is "The Measure for Prayer," and the lesson is found in Eph. 3:14-19. Let everyone come prepared to help out the meeting.

Mrs. Mae Ellis is down from Los Angeles for a month's stay.

Mrs. Ferguson is entertaining the chickenpox this week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Phillips of Los Angeles, came out Sunday to see Mrs. Phillips' brothers, Ernest and Lawrence Wakeham, and their families.

At the Epworth League business meeting, held in the church after prayer meeting Wednesday evening it was decided that a picnic be held in the near future, the time and place to be named later. Other important items of business were discussed.

Miss Annette Deardorff and her pupils rendered a very pleasing cantata Monday evening, and we appreciate the amount of work it meant in training them so well. The room was a bower of green and the stage represented a big flower garden. First appeared the maidens, who planted the seeds so carefully, then waited and watched for the different flowers to appear, these being represented by various girls in dainty and striking costumes. The king then appeared, heralded in due style, and ushered in by pages fair. The white and gold butterflies flitted here and there, sipping the sweet honey from the flowers. The king summoned the demure maid who tended her geese, and after learning of her habits and family, crowned her queen. The singing was well done, and each bravely did her part. The Maypole was gracefully wound and unwound. Then appeared a red poppy girl, who gave an exhibition of ballet dancing. Altogether it was a very pretty entertainment and every one enjoyed it. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nugent are happy over the arrival of an 8½-pound baby girl.

Mr. C. C. Teague, president of the executive committee, will address the meeting and will explain the proposed change. All stockholders are urged to attend, as this is a matter of importance. A. C. TIEDE, Secretary.

HOW THE PAPERS LINE UP

The following interesting statement of the attitude of the papers of California on the question of candidates for governor is made by the Fresno Republican:

Total papers polled .....340
For Johnson .....146
For Stanton .....25
For Curry .....24
For Anderson .....14
For Ellery .....1
For Bell .....13
Neutral .....92
"Not lined up yet" .....25
Commenting on this showing, the Republican says:

"As between the candidates, the figures show the proportions about as would have been expected, except that the large number of papers for Stanton is deceptive. All these papers are south of Tehachapi and nearly all are extremely small country papers. There are more papers of this class published in the south than anywhere else, and this is the class in which local and sectional prejudice is strongest. Even with this, Johnson has more papers, in numbers, and enormously more in circulation, influence and importance, south of Tehachapi, than Stanton. The other proportions are as expected, with Johnson having a large majority over all the others combined; Curry a bad second, Anderson a negligible third, Ellery a joke, and Stanton a purely local candidate.

The distribution of the people is apparently in about the same proportions."

And then the Riverside Press adds: "A large number of California papers, from all over the state, come to the Press office; we receive on exchange nearly 60 dailies and a large number of weeklies. And we gather from the editorial expressions of these papers that the fact is quite generally recognized by the newspaper men of the state that the real contest for governor is between Johnson and Curry. This opinion is certainly entitled to a good deal of weight because newspaper men are in a pretty good position to learn the sentiment of the people. There are a few papers which are so enthusiastic over Stanton or Anderson that they insist that their favorites really have a good show; but the general newspaper opinion is that both of these candidates are a "side issue" and that they are being encouraged by "the organization" to stay in the fight in order to win votes away from Johnson.

"Curry's support is made up of certain clearly defined factors and it is for Curry first, last and all the time. That is not at all true of the following of Stanton and Anderson; various considerations have brought different men to the support of these candidates and, in the case of Stanton the consideration is largely the desire for a Southern California governor. If Anderson or Stanton were to drop out of the race, part of their support would go to Curry, but only a small part. More of it would naturally go to Johnson, and hence the importance to the machine of keeping both of these candidates in the field until the primaries are held.

"We do not say that either Stanton or Anderson is deliberately a party to this arrangement; we think it is more likely that they have been encouraged to believe they have a good show for the nomination and certain it is that this belief is being fostered by some very well handled newspaper boosting. The man who reads only the Los Angeles Times, for instance, might very naturally conclude that there was nothing to it but Stanton. We have no idea, however, that the astute political editor of the Times really thinks so; we have a decided impression that he has received a tip to boom Stanton and that in doing so he is really acting on "orders." The real purpose of the Times and the interests, political and business, which it represents, is to beat Johnson. There is very little regard for Stanton except as a means to an end, and that end is the defeat of Johnson and the nomination of Curry. The only regret is that a good many voters who read the Times do not understand this; and they will vote for Stanton as a Southern California candidate and thus indirectly help Curry.

"In the final show down, we are con-

FAMOUS MANAGERS WERE PUT OUT OF ASSOCIATION

NEW YORK, May 20.—At a meeting of the board of directors of National Producing Managers of the United States it was decided by the unanimous vote of the officers to expel from the association A. L. ## PASADENA MAY UNITE WITH SISTER CITIES

PASADENA, May 20.—The consolidation movement which is being quietly and earnestly carried on for the amalgamation of Pasadena, South Pasadena and Alhambra into one greater city, is rapidly gaining in favor, according to statements of many influential conservative citizens of the three municipalities. The wet blanket thrown on the proposition of annexation of South Pasadena and Alhambra to Los Angeles by men prominent in affairs in Los Angeles has served to turn the tide Pasadenaward. The far-sighted, level-headed business element in those cities is now almost unanimously in favor of the immediate consolidation of the mesa cities with the understanding that consolidation with Los Angeles be effected at some future time.

POMONA COLLEGE GIRLS HUSTLE FOR DOLLARS

As everybody knows Pomona College is making herculean efforts to raise the last $40,000 or $50,000 of the $300,000 endowment fund that is in sight for that college. President Blaisdell's address here last Sunday aroused a deep interest in the endeavor and Santa Ana will likely aid generously. Among others appointed to raise money here are W. H. Spurgeon, Robert McFadden, Prof. Cranston, John Beatty, A. J. Crookshank and J. S. Talcott.

Everybody is busy in Claremont this week. The girls of the college have divided themselves into companies each one of which has its own way of raising money for the endowment fund. Some of the girls are shining shoes, others are shampooing, and some are darning socks.

On Saturday one section will have a tag day, a girl's band playing at noon and night. Between classes the girls will tag the town. Their pluck deserves encouragement and success.

Don't fail to read Henrickson's Report in this issue.

WITNESSES SUBPOENED BY PROSECUTION EXAMINED BY SKELLY'S ATTORNEYS

Cross-Questioned

The Register's detailed report of the preliminary examination of Frank F. Skelly, charged with wife-murder, was closed yesterday while Mrs. E. A. Hare was on the witness stand under cross-examination. Following her, the district attorney put on Coroner G. S. Smith to prove that an inquest had been held on the body of the dead woman. At that point the prosecution rested. Then came the line taken up by the defense and followed until the day's closing hour, 5 o'clock, at which time Justice Smithwick took adjournment until 10 o'clock this morning. This line of procedure was aimed to get hold of all the evidence in the possession of the prosecution. Yesterday afternoon the defense called none but witnesses subpoenaed by the prosecution.

inquest on May 12. The prosecution rested.

Davis Is Called

"We call the district attorney," said Bishop.

Davis was sworn. He said he first visited the Skelly house on May 12. On his visit to the house he brought away some pieces of burned clothing, some glass, a utensil and the tank of the stove.

"Produce them," said Bishop.

Davis refused on the ground that he held the articles for the purpose of prosecution.

The defense's attorneys got out a subpoena duces tecum, signed by Justice Smithwick, and Davis brought the articles into court.

"I turn these over to the court to be kept by him until needed in the trial," said Davis. "I do not turn them over to the defendant nor his attorneys."

"We don't want them," blurted out Williams and Bishop together.

Davis said the pieces of broken glass were given him either by Mr. Patterson or Mr. Bentley. He said he got the gasoline stove tank at the Skelly house. He thought it had gasoline in it, but he thought either Mr. Patterson or Mr. Bentley poured it out. The pieces of burned clothing were handed to him by Deputy Finley, who was at the house, too. A colander, a tin utensil, was taken from the shelf of the pantry. Just why it was selected from the numerous articles on the shelf did not appear.

Deputy S. S. Finley testified he had handed the burned bits of cloth to Davis. He had picked them up from the ground on the line believed to have been run over by Mrs. Skelly as she was in flame.

"Who gave you the first information as to this alleged crime?"

"The coroner."

"When?"

"On May 11. The district attorney's office had no word of any suspicions until then."

Dr. C. C. Violett Next

Dr. C. C. Violett of Garden Grove testified he reached the Skelly house by auto about 6:30 o'clock. He found Mrs. Skelly in bed groaning in agony. The principal burns were on the upper part of the body, the arms and the inner side of the thighs. She suffered intensely.

"What did she say?"

"She asked me if she would live," said the doctor. "I told her I hoped so. She said: 'I must live for my babies.' She asked repeatedly if she would live or die. I heard her say: 'Frank, why did you do it?' Mr. Skelly was standing near the foot of the bed when he fell right out full length on the floor, but was up in a minute. When he fell, Mrs. Skelly cried out, 'Oh, Frank, Frank!' He said, 'Oh, I'm all right. Don't bother with me. Attend to Ethel.' 'After her burns were dressed I took her in my arms to a bed in another room. She looked at me and asked: 'Can't Frank come in here where I am?' I told her it was best for both of them to be separated, as being together would excite them."

The district attorney objected to some of the questions of the defense, and said the defense had out a fishing net, and was not there to clarify the atmosphere but to fish in all it could.

"I repudiate any desire to obscure anything," replied Bishop. "It strikes me that the district attorney who has to be served with process to make him produce articles is the one who is trying to obscure the issue."

"What other statements did you hear Mrs. Skelly make?" was asked of Dr. Violett.

"I heard her say, 'I always dreaded fire. Such a hard death! Such a horrible death!'"

Dr. Violett said he was at the house three times the first day and twice the next, on Saturday. The treatment alleviated her pain. By Friday evening her agony was not so intense. Saturday she was not so solicitous about her condition. The reason? Shock of the injury and the influence of morphine. The first day she was under the influence of shock but little. Morphine was applied ten or fifteen minutes after he arrived.

Nurse on the Stand

Mrs. Margery Kennedy, a nurse, arrived at the Skelly house on the morning of May 6 at about 6 o'clock. She found Mrs. Skelly in bed suffering terribly. A tub of lime water was being used and oil was being applied under the direction of the druggist. Skelly was dipping cotton in the lime water and applying it in washing Mrs. Skelly.

Mrs. Kennedy went to the pantry after a crock. The northeast corner of the pantry was scorched. The shelves, papers, hanging down three or four inches, were black, the edge still being there. On the floor she saw a box of mantels for patent lamps.

Gans Awakened

Abraham Gans, book-keeper for the celery association and who had been keeping Skelly's books at nights, was questioned by Attorney Rutan.

"About daybreak," testified Gans, "Mr. Skelly came into my room and asked me if I heard that noise or if I made that noise, or something of that sort. I was hardly awake. I dozed again. I awakened later and was debating whether or not to get up and take a bicycle ride when I heard a kind of scream and a scuffle of feet or something like that. I thought nothing of it, thinking it must be someone punishing one of the children. Then I heard a second scream, an agonized screech, it seemed to me. I got up, dressed as quickly as I could, and when I got down stairs Mrs. Skelly was in her bed. I went in and Mrs. Skelly said: 'Oh, Mr. Gans, Mr. Skelly has killed me,' or 'Oh, Mr. Gans, Mr. Skelly threw gasoline,' or something of the kind. I heard her exclaim several times, 'he tried to kill me.'"

Gans went to the kitchen. He found the jets of the stove burning a normal blue blaze, and the pantry afire. He got several buckets of water and put out the fire in the pantry. Cavanagh was there. Who else, he did not know. He did not know who put the fire out. He did not notice the stove tank.

He heard Mrs. Skelly say to Dr. Gordon: "Oh, my hands and arms, please cut my head off." When the little girl came in, Mrs. Skelly said: "Oh, Edna, girl," Mrs. Skelly moaned, and was in intense pain. He heard her ask: "Frank, why did you do it?" He did not touch the gasoline stove. He never saw Mrs. Skelly fill the stove tank.

The Tank Was Off

J. F. Patterson said he knew the Skellys intimately. He never knew their family relations to be unpleasant. On the morning of May 6 he and his wife were called to the Skelly home by Gans. Mrs. Skelly said nothing directly to him.

When Dr. Violett arrived he asked for some hot water. Patterson went to the kitchen to heat some. Thinking the gasoline stove was out of commission by reason of an explosion, he went to the wood stove, and found it had had no fire that morning. Then he found the tank of the gasoline stove. It was sitting on end either on a chair or on the floor two or three feet from the stove. The room was in disorder. The top of the tank was off and lay on the gasoline stove. He judged the tank by its weight to be half full of gasoline. The top did not fit well, but he screwed it on, set the tank on the stove, generated the flame and started water to heating.

While he was in the kitchen Mrs. Hare began cleaning up the pantry. There was dirty water on the floor. A double handful of glass was on the floor. He picked it up and carried it out. He thought he stood on the porch and threw it, but his wife and Mrs. Hare have since told him he walked to the fence and threw it over the fence. The glass was probably from a half-gallon fruit jar. He hunted up the glass on May 11 and gave it to Deputy Finley. He did not know

Cottolene Biscuits Are Light and Flaky

They have none of that heavy-as-lead suggestion, that greasy taste, and that after-heaviness of lard biscuit. The reason is that Cottolene is a vegetable product of absolute purity. It is made of choice, refined, cotton seed oil, and it contains not a trace of hog-fat.

Cottolene is unequaled as a shortening and frying medium. It is not only better than lard or cooking butter, but more economical.

At this point, 5 o'clock having arrived, Attorney Rutan said the defense had five or six more witnesses, and he asked adjournment until today. Attorney Bishop said it would be asking too much of the defendant, just out of bed, to stay longer in court at the time. Adjournment was taken.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The price of rice has been advancing fast in the past few days in Los Angeles as well as in all parts of the United States. In the south, where most of the crop is grown, the price on strictly fancy rice has advanced to 2 1/2 cents a pound, which brings it to almost 4 cents f.o.b. Los Angeles. One reason for the higher prices lies in the fact that the growers have not been selling their second or poor grades to the packers, but have been using it extensively for feeding cattle or have been selling it to brewers. Reports of drouth throughout the south have been general and this has cut down an acreage which was expected to be larger this year than last. Some of the crop was also touched by frost in the early part of the season. Rice worms and bugs of various kinds are also given credit for a great deal of the damage which has been done. The water worms are doing the damage where irrigation is saving the crop from drouth and where irrigation has not been used it has dried out. This therefore leaves the rice market in an exceedingly firm condition with little possibility of any declines during the entire season to come.

Receipts of eggs yesterday morning were 266 cases. Fancy stock was hard to obtain, according to some of the dealers, since warm weather is influencing the quality and making closer candling necessary. Sales were normal.

Butter receipts were 36,258 pounds. There were no heavy sales of any variety. The local market continues from 1 to 2 cents above all the markets of the United States and the only available reason lies in the fact that some of the stock is going into storage.

Arrivals of cheese were 431 pounds only. Eastern offerings were longhorn, daisy and twins, while only one Oregon variety, daisy cheese, was featured. Sales were light.

About two cars—257 sacks—of potatoes were received from the north. There were no features in sales, which if anything were smaller than usual. Onion receipts were 816 sacks. There was a fair call for Bermudas.

The reason for the recent rise in pink beans is the scarcity. California supplies the entire United States with pink beans, and the truth of the matter is that the entire crop has been cleaned up. How high quotations will continue rests with the amount that the consumer will pay.

There were no changes in fruit. Only about 400 boxes of cherries were received. There were no changes in quotations. Apricots were fairly plentiful. Berries were all in fair demand at unchanged prices.

Fish were very plentiful and the call for them was good. Smelt and kingfish were the small varieties in best call. Salmon and catfish from the north were also among the varieties which sold fast.

THREE ASKING APPOINTMENT

Struck, Smith and Drake Seeking to Fill Vacancy on the Board

Tomorrow afternoon the Republican county central committee will meet at the city hall to recommend a successor to D. A. MacMullen on the Board of Supervisors. That recommendation will go to Lieut. Gov. Porter, acting governor, and doubtless will be conclusive.

There are three candidates for the appointment. They are Fred Struck, who was in the field against Dr. MacMullen for the nomination, A. R. Smith and D. C. Drake. Struck and Smith were out with their petitions first. Tuesday evening the Good Government men at Orange asked D. C. Drake, a well known rancher, former chairman of the trustees of Orange, and a member of the board of directors of the S.A. V.I. Co., to make the race, and the campaign for him has gained considerable impetus.

HELD TO ANSWER NO BAIL ALLOWED

murdered me," and "He threw gasoline on me."

Hare did not know whether or not Skelly was in the room when Mrs. Skelly made the statements.

During Hare's examination, the attorneys clashed. District Attorney Davis had frequently objected on the ground that the defense was cross-examining and leading its own witnesses. In a statement to the court he said:

"I am here to object with all the force of my character to this kind of procedure. This court is not to be buffeted and buncoed by any crowd that comes in here."

Attorney Bishop was on his feet. "I have quietly heard Davis yesterday and today insinuating that we are attempting to bunco the court. I am sick and tired of hearing it. I tell you, our records before the bar are as good as his ever dared to be." Justice Smithwick said: "Do not forget the gravity of this investigation. I want to get at the facts, and therefore I allow more latitude than I would at a trial."

George L. Waters of Westminster testified he knew both Frank and Ethel Skelly. He lives three lots away. He saw Mrs. Skelly running, afire. The flames seemed to him to run from the ground to the top of her head. Skelly, Cavanaugh and he carried her into the house. She repeatedly said: "Frank threw gasoline on me," either those words or others of the same import. In the room, she spoke very plain, and made statements, not in hers.

"Skelly was working with us doing all he could," said Waters.

Again Testifies

W. H. Bentley, who testified at the coroner's inquest, was called next. He knew the Skellys. He went into the Skelly house about two hours after the burning. He was in Skelly's room, not in hers.

Bentley—"I heard Skelly say: 'I can't say just how it happened. I was in another room. I heard her scream and ran out and she was afire.' I heard Mrs. Skelly make no statement. On Sunday I examined the premises. On the west side of the house, the gasoline stove sat about flush with the edge of the doorway of the pantry. I saw no indication of severe fire on the stove. In the pantry the shelves and walls were scorched and charred in places. There is an east window of the pantry. The door is on the south and swings in east."

The burning was in the northeast corner. The pantry is about 5x5 feet. On the linoleum against the north side was a mark of fire. There were charred marks on the walls. In four or five places down the grooves gasoline seemed to have run down to the floor. Hanging against the wall were articles. Among them was a colander and sieve."

He examined the gasoline tank on May 12. The tank was probably one-third full then.

He saw on May 6, a blue checked apron partly burned.

Nurse on Stand

Miss Hazel Butterfield, trained nurse, of Santa Ana, was called by Dr. Gordon to care for Mrs. Skelly.

She reached the house at 8 o'clock and remained until 3 a.m. May 8, when Mrs. Skelly died. She was gone on a walk of fifteen minutes and was away half an hour for each meal. Otherwise she was always in hearing of the patient.

"Did you ever hear Mrs. Skelly say as to how she came by her burns?" asked Attorney Rutan.

"No."

The nurse said Mrs. Skelly was very weak and talked little.

"There was something said in the room about her running out doors, and she said: 'I was crazy and ran out doors.' Once she asked where Mr. Skelly was."

F. M. Watson said he knew the Skellys. He reached the house May 6 at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Skelly was on the bed and Skelly stood by. He heard Mrs. Skelly say: "Oh, Frank, why did you do it?"

Mrs. Patterson on Stand

Mrs. J. F. Patterson, highly nervous from the strain, gave her testimony in a plain, direct manner. She said she was apprised of the occurrence by Mr. Gans, who awakened her and her husband at 5:35 o'clock.

"As I stepped into the room where Mrs. Skelly was upon her bed," said Mrs. Patterson, "she said to me: 'Oh, Mrs. Patterson, Mr. Skelly has murdered me.' I said: 'Oh, Mrs. Skelly, don't say that.' Then she said: 'He did do it. He poured gasoline on me.'"

"Mr. Skelly stood by my side at the bed and Mrs. Skelly looked up at him and said: 'Frank, how could you do it? Why didn't you shoot me?' He said: 'I didn't know it was gasoline.'"

"Then she said: 'You threatened me, but I didn't think you would do it.'"

After leaving the courtroom, Mrs. Patterson broke down under the nervous strain.

The defense called for Mrs. Watson, but she was not to be found. The defense said it was through with taking testimony. This was at 11:55 o'clock, and adjournment was taken to 1:30 o'clock.

Asks Freedom

Attorney Bishop addressed the justice.

"In every crime there must be a joint act and intent. There has been nothing produced in regard to intent. We find Mr. Skelly fighting the flames, doing all he could."

"At the same time we find this paid-distracted woman crying out that Frank Skelly murdered her. You are convinced he would not throw gasoline upon her without cause. That would be the act of a fiend. There is no cause shown."

"The nurse, as calm as any person there, heard no word of attempted murder. Her word should be taken as against the word of ladies who were greatly excited. Mrs. Skelly told Dr. Gordon nothing of it, whom she would be most likely to tell."

Attorney R. Y. Williams said: "Eliminate the feature of the statements of Mrs. Skelly and there is not a particle of evidence of a crime. These statements were made by a woman suffering terrible pain. Otherwise, everything is in Mr. Skelly's favor. The couple had had no trouble."

"Take the situation. It was early in the morning. Suppose Mrs. Skelly tried to fill the stove. Someone tried to fill it. Mr. Patterson found the tank off the stove. With the burners going she might have caught fire easily. All afire, she might easily mistake her husband's actions. There was a case in this county where a girl afire from gasoline thought her father and mother were burning her up."

"We ask for bail on the law. When the probability is not great, bail may be given. I submit that there is not sufficient evidence here to convince a jury of this man's guilt."

District Attorney Davis answered, saying that under the law where the presumption is great bail cannot be given.

"No motive shown?" he said. "No motive need be shown. Many a man has been convicted without a motive being shown. The evidence of the last witness alone is sufficient to bind this man over without bail. The presumption is all against him."

"On that morning when his dying, burned wife accused him, he did not open his mouth. He gave not one word of justification. Yesterday and today, he has not opened his mouth to give one word of justification."

Bishop—"In this county Cook and the Hungerfords were admitted to bail."

Smithwick—"I have read the law and understand it perfectly. I shall hold the defendant to answer for trial in the superior court, without bail."

Miss Edith M. Graves, State C. E. Intermediate Superintendent, Harold Cross, President of Los Angeles City Union Intermediate, and William Colby, a Methodist Intermediate of Los Angeles, will be speakers at the Rally of Intermediates Saturday night, 7:30.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF G. G. R. LEAGUE

A meeting of the Good Government Republican League of Orange county is called at the Santa Ana headquarters, Room 11, Rowley block, corner Fourth and Main streets, Friday evening, May 20, at 7:30 o'clock. The principal business to come before the meeting is the perfecting of arrangements for the Johnson-Wallace-Works-Eshleman tour of Orange county next Monday.

MOTHER AND THREE CHILDREN VERY LOW

Physician Cannot Tell What Ultimate Result of Lye Poison Will be

ANAHEIM, May 19.—Mrs. Solia Gastelum, who attempted to murder her two baby girls, aged 2 and 3 years, by giving them concentrated lye yesterday and then drinking a quantity herself, still lives, much to the surprise of the attending physicians.

The little girls are both alive, but suffering terribly.

The physician states today that he cannot tell until a day or two as to whether the unfortunate woman will live or not, but does not give much hope. The girls will recover.

FEET SO SORE COULDN'T WALK DOWN STAIRS—TIZ Cured Her Quick

"If you have sore feet, tired feet, sweaty feet, lame feet, tender feet, smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett, of Jeffersonville. TIZ did it. Mr. Crockett says. 'After the second treatment she walked downstairs one foot at a time. She has not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes.'"

No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.
